Trinamool, BJP spar at MPs' panel meeting

SOBHANA K. NAIR
NEW DELHI

A meeting of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Home Affairs saw the Trinamool Congress and the BJP blaming each other for the political violence in West Bengal.

The committee headed by senior Congress leader Anand Sharma was deliberating on the subject of "atrocities and crimes against women and children". Haryana and West Bengal officials made a presentation on the subject.

According to sources, Tri-namool MP Kakoli Ghosh Dastidar started the argument.

"Without naming the BJP, she said that the youth wing of a certain party in West Bengal has been targeting women in the State, especially the TMC workers. They threaten the women workers with rape," a member said.

At this, the BJP members claimed that many of their party workers had been killed in the State.

The Left parties too had made a similar charge against the Trinamool.
