Sex CD case: Cong demands
HC-monitored investigation

Bengaluru: The sex CD case allegedly involving former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi disrupted proceedings of the legislative assembly for the second consecutive day on Tuesday. The opposition Congress continued its protest in the well of the House, demanding an inquiry monitored by the chief justice of the Karnataka high court.

Repeated adjournments marred proceedings as Congress members prevented any business from taking place by shouting slogans and the government not heeding their demands. Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri's efforts to call a meeting of floor leaders were in vain.

Congress demanded that Jarkiholi be booked for rape.

Congress raised the issue on Monday, demanding that Jarkiholi be booked for rape and an independent inquiry monitored by the chief justice be initiated. Op-demanding the SIT be monitored by the chief justice of Karnataka high court. He also demanded the resignation of six ministers who had approached the court for a gag order on media.

Soon after the House paid obituary references to former minister BD Basavaraju who died on Monday, Congress members trooped into the well, waving CDs and shouting slogans. Speaker Kageri requested them to cooperate to take up the question hour. "Showing CDs inside is derogatory to the House," he said.

position leader Siddaramaiah had alleged that the SIT is focusing only on the conspiracy behind the scandal, not the woman.

However, there was a slight change in its stand on Tuesday with Siddaramaiah
