National Workshop for State Legislators on Energy & Environment

October 9-10, 2025 | New Delhi

Why should legislators attend this program?

India's economic growth and rapid urbanisation have increased the demand for energy and natural resources, resulting in environmental disruptions and heightening the need for disaster preparedness. These pressures contribute to inconsistent weather, challenges in managing natural resources, and an increase in the frequency of natural disasters. At the same time, the need to balance development with sustainability makes it important to explore more effective strategies and regulatory frameworks.

In this workshop, experts will discuss these persisting issues, including challenges in power generation and transmission, sustainable management of water resources, emerging environmental policies and regulations, and the financing of disaster management.

These discussions will help participants engage effectively in the legislative process and contribute to shaping policies and regulations.

About PRS Legislative Research

PRS is an independent, not-for-profit research institution that seeks to strengthen the legislative process by making it better informed, more transparent, and participatory.

For the last 20 years, PRS has been providing research support and has anchored subject-specific sessions for legislators. Members can request research inputs on Bills, budgets and other policies for their debates in the legislatures.

In the past, PRS in partnership with premier academic institutions and State Legislatures, has hosted several workshops at the national, regional and state level. It has also anchored programs for Secretariat officials on various legislative and finance topics.
